A Guide for Candidates,
Political Parties and Election Officials

State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations

Office of the Secretary of State

A. Ralph Mollis

Secretary of State

Dear Rhode Islander:

As Secretary of State, assuring our elections are accessible to those who wish to serve is among my most important duties. I had the privilege of overseeing Rhode Island's record-breaking election season in 2008. We set new highs in voter registrations as well as turnout in a presidential primary and a general election. I hope this year will be just as historic.

This guidebook includes a detailed list of crucial dates in the 2010 election calendar for offices ranging from town council to Governor of Rhode Island. You will find key deadlines and basic facts about everything from registering to vote to filing declarations of candidacy and nominating papers. This guide also contains important dates and details regarding the campaign finance regulations, which are governed by the state Board of Elections.

In keeping with my pledge to use technology to improve Rhode Islanders' access to government, the guide also is posted on our website at www.sos.ri.gov/elections/forms, where it is available 24/7.

Two other publications from my office may be useful. How to Run for Office includes basic facts about everything from declarations of candidacy and party affiliation to endorsements and nomination papers. How to Register and Vote includes information on registering to vote, changing your party affiliation and finding your polling place.

Government belongs to the people. The more they know, the better they will govern. If you need additional information, please contact our Elections Division at 401-222-2340, TTY 711 or elections@sos.ri.gov.

Sincerely,

A. Ralph Mollis
Secretary of State
